Energy Law & Policy Internship
Spring 2024

Position Summary
AriSEIA seeks a passionate and detail-oriented graduate student to join our team as an Energy Law & Policy Intern. This position offers the opportunity to work directly on pressing energy issues in Arizona. The intern will report to our Executive Director and General Counsel, with opportunities to learn and grow while working with other policy professionals.

About AriSEIA
Founded in 1991, AriSEIA is a nonprofit focused on advocating for solar, storage, and electrification policy in Arizona. Our focus is on educating the public and key decision makers about solar, storage technologies, and energy efficiency. We are also intensely focused on promoting professionalism within the solar industry and helping create and protect public policies that support the solar industry and its customers.

Read more at AriSEIA.org.

Location
This position is open to any graduate student based in Arizona. The work will be largely remote.

Job Responsibilities
- Conduct research on energy law and policy in Arizona
- Attend stakeholder meetings, including at the Arizona Corporation Commission and others
- Research and work on various projects in a fast-growing, non-profit environment
- Monitor and track relevant state and regional policy developments relevant to energy
- Draft and edit filings and other documents to be used directly in policy advocacy campaigns

Qualifications
- Current enrollment in graduate or law school
- Excellent communicator, written and verbal
- Superior research and analytic abilities
- Motivated to take ownership of projects and demonstrate follow-through
• Exhibits sound judgment, accuracy, and integrity
• Ability to maintain confidentiality
• Genuine passion for the mission and work of AriSEIA
• Enthusiastic to learn about energy law and policy
• Ability to work at least 10 hours per week

Compensation
This position is currently available for academic credit. $2,000 stipend.

How to Apply
Send your materials to autumn@ariseia.org as one PDF.
• Compelling cover letter explaining how your qualifications match the needs of the position and your interest in AriSEIA;
• Resume;
• Three references with contact information and a brief description of your relationship; and
• A recent writing sample.

Timeline
The internship will take place during the Spring of 2024. While the specific dates of this internship are flexible, the start date will be around early to mid-January and will go through April. This is a part-time internship with an expectation to work at least 10 hours a week.

Deadline to Apply: December 1, 2023